

Submission period and publication schedule for Advanced Experimental Mechanics annually published by the JSEM

Your submitted manuscripts will be published, if they are successfully accepted, according to the following publication schedules given below:

Bold lines on a calendar bar indicate a submission period for authors attending the ISEM Series (the deadline is usually January 10th), while dotted lines under the calendar bar denote another possible submission period for authors without attending the ISEM Series (Papers by ISEM participants can be published within 7 months after submission). The 3rd issue of AEM is going to be soon published at the end of August, 2018. Now we call for the manuscript for the 4th issue of AEM from JSEM members or Non-members. We welcome any manuscripts falling within the scope of AEM.
